

From: TRUassayist1@aol.com@inetgw
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/23/02 6:38pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Microsoft has refused to allow the application Office to be used on the Linux operating system.

Microsoft knows that this application is dominant and by refusing to allow this application to be ported to Linux knows that the persons needing this application are prevented from using the Linus operating system.

Microsoft is convicted of being a monopolist. Punishment should be exacted. Requiring that the Office application be ported to Linux is a means of divesting Microsoft from their monopoly on the desktop tied to their operating system.

Please join the states that have ask of Microsoft to port the Office application to Linux and make this a condition of the settlement.

Steven Wallace
TRUassayist1@aol.com

CC: TRUassayist1@aol.com@inetgw